KEY WITNESS INKIDNAPPING
KILLED TODAY

Authorities Investigate "Accident" on Peru Highway

Peru, Ill. July 27.—(AP)—Fred DeFilippi, 30, Springfield, Ill., business man and key witness against Phil Palmero, kidnapping suspect, was killed today in a collision between his automobile and a beer truck.

The crash occurred on state route 7, just west of here. The truck driver, Henry Stauch of Peru, said DeFilippi's car swerved suddenly as it approached the truck and smashed into the beer-laden vehicle.

Police immediately began an investigation of the circumstances and an examination of DeFilippi's car. DeFilippi had received several threats recently and yesterday morning a tavern in a building owned by DeFilippi was bombed.

Kidnaped in 1932, DeFilippi was kidnaped and held captive several weeks before being released on Christmas Day. He was paid $5,000 ransom for his freedom.

He was the principal witness in the subsequent trial at Peoria which resulted in six men being sent to the penitentiary for the kidnapping and for the abduction of Adehaime Huughe, East Moline, Ill., business man.

Phil Palmero of Rockford was arrested recently and accused of being the seventh member of the kidnapping gang. He is now being held at the LaSalle county jail awaiting trial in Federal court.

DeFilippi suffered a skull fracture in today's crash and died soon afterward. Stauch, driver for the Star Union Brewing Company of Peru, was not held.

Mrs. Mary Heckman, Dixonite 50 Years, Called by Creator

Mrs. Mary A. Heckman, resident of this vicinity for almost 50 years, passed away yesterday afternoon about 3:15 at her home, 313 East Fellows street. She was born in Somerset, Pa., Aug. 21, 1843, coming to the vicinity of Dixon in 1865, where she had resided almost continuously since. She was the widow of the late Daniel Heckman, who preceded her in death several years ago.

She is survived by the following children: Harry of this city, Mrs. Ada Reitz of Pasadena, Cal., Alexander of LaSalle, Colo., Mrs. Clara Ayres of Azusa, Cal., Mrs. Minnie Lehman of Greeley, Colo., and Luther of Dixon. One brother and one sister residing in Pennsylvania, 18 grand children and nine great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted from the St. Paul's church Monday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating and with interment in the Mt. Union cemetery.

Rock Island Man is Five Millionth to Attend World's Fair

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—William C. Bowers, 30, Rock Island, Ill., had an armful of gifts today to show he was the five millionth visitor at the World's Fair.

Accompanied by his wife, Bowers was met at the gate yesterday by H. Skidmore, assistant general manager in charge of fair design and construction. He was presented with a tire, a souvenir year shift knob, a camera, an electric clock and 10 fair admissions.

The Bowerses were escorted into a village where Bowers was introduced during folk dances. He was surrounded by a bevy of folk dancers who in keeping with tradition, showered him with kisses.

Bowers entered the grounds at 3:57 o'clock. He had driven here by automobile from his farm.

There's Some Honor Among 70 Prisoners in Lake County Jail

Waukegan, Ill. July 27.—(AP)—There's some honor among the prisoners of the Lake county jail. Yesterday, when five swept from the sheriff's garage to jail windows, Chief Deputy Thomas Kennedy said, "Boys, we're giving you a break. Don't put us on the spot by escaping. You are on your honor." Then he freed them. They were all there—70 of them including two alleged murderers—when the flames were extinguished.

ROOSTING CON-CON

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—In letters to 200 civic and improvement organizations, the City Club of Chicago today launched a campaign for a state constitutional convention. The club asked support in putting a proposal for such a convention up in the November elections.

SALESMAN, WELL KNOWN IN CITY, IN FATAL CRASH

Harry G. Simpkins of Madison, Wis. Died in Sterling Hospital

Harry G. Simpkins, aged 63, of Madison, Wis., salesman for the Wisconsin Foundry and Machine Works of that city, well known in this locality, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when the sedan he was driving crossed into the steel bridge over Elkhorn creek on state highway route 85 about three miles west of Sterling. State Highway Police Edward Mahan of this city and Rex Flach of Amboy, reached the scene shortly after the crash and removed him to the Sterling hospital where he died shortly before 5 o'clock.

Mr. Simpkins was driving toward Sterling about 4:30 yesterday afternoon and is believed to have fallen asleep as his car rounded a curve and approached the bridge structure. The car left the paving and crashed into the end of the bridge. The driver suffered severe injuries to the head, which caused his death, both arms were broken and his body was badly bruised. The car was practically demolished.

Mrs. Simpkins and officials of the company by whom he was employed were notified by the state police officers and arrived in Sterling last evening to take charge of the remains which are to be sent to Madison today. An inquest was conducted this morning at 10 o'clock at Sterling.

HEAT'S TOLL IN NATION IS 1368 HUMANS; ROUTED

Cool Breezes Ended the Scorching Weather in Most Areas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scorching heat has been routed after killing 1368 persons.

Cool breezes swept rains into most sections yesterday and today, but while they brought a sharp drop in heat fatalities, they afforded no material aid to the drought ravaged farm areas.

Temperatures broke 43 degrees in some sections, but in the Pacific southwest, where a new heat wave started, thermometers rock-high, too, along most sections of the Atlantic coast.

The heat wave took its greatest toll in Missouri, where 378 perished. Illinois and Ohio were next with 362 and 163, respectively.

Missouri Still Hot

In Missouri the relief was less marked than in some other sections. Kansas City's temperature dropped from a yesterday maximum of 110 to a 94 high today.

Louisiana had a 20 degree drop in maximum temperature from its previous high of 110. Cool rains added to the relief last night.

Heat deaths in other states early today stood: Iowa 72; Nebraska 61; Indiana 66; Kentucky 58; Kansas 39; Minnesota 33; Pennsylvania 20; Michigan 16; Wisconsin 15; Texas 13; West Virginia 12; Oklahoma 12; New York 11; Arkansas 10; South Dakota 7; Tennessee 7; Connecticut 4; Maryland 3; Rhode Island 3; District of Columbia 3; South Carolina 1 and Virginia 1.

Charles Walgreen, III, Passed Away: Burial Here Today

Charles Rudolph Walgreen, 3rd, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Jr., died yesterday in Chicago after several weeks illness. The baby was born July 4th this year.

Funeral services, to be private, will be held in Dixon this afternoon, with burial in the Walgreen family plot in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. Herman Lambert will have charge of the services.

The funeral party coming to Dixon this afternoon will include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walgreen, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walgreen, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie (parents of Mrs. Walgreen, Jr.) all of Chicago and Mrs. Dart of Hinsdale.

Nature Causes Administration To Make Changes in Its Plans to Aid Farmers, Cotton Growers

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—Out of the dust and misery of the nation's worst drought two developments arose today:

1. There is a possibility that the Bankhead Act, involving compulsory reduction of the cotton crop, may be scrapped. The drought has been extending its killing reign into the south, notably Texas and Oklahoma. This has led officials to wonder whether the crop would not be reduced even lower than the 19,480,251 bales permitted under the Bankhead Act.

2. An enormous expansion of the government's cattle buying program is planned. Secretary Wallace declared "we expect to buy at least 4,000,000 cattle and possibly 7,000,000." The government has already bought 1,500,000 to save them from death by thirst and starvation.

Wallace predicted the AAA's general effort to aid the farmer, or some similar plan, "will continue regardless of any change in administration—or there will be disaster again."

"Grotesque" was the way he described the saying that "the Lord is punishing farmers for reducing acreage."

"If that is true," he said, "I wonder why the Almighty has not punished the factory owners, who through these years have stopped production the moment they could no longer make a profit."

TROOPS IN FULL CHARGE IN MINNEAPOLIS STREETS

Trucks Move Through City Streets With Out Convoys

Minneapolis, July 27.—(AP)—Concentration of National Guard troops in downtown Minneapolis because of the truck drivers strike, was increased by the moving in of an especially trained "shock" troop battalion today.

Quietness pervaded the city as the third battalion of the 206th infantry entered the downtown district with a heavy complement of arms, including gas guns, field machine guns, automatic rifles, and tommy guns. The men, most of them veterans with war experience, are specially trained in dispersing crowds.

Military rule of the city, declared yesterday by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, has been brought to the heart of the downtown district. They acted on instructions to prevent parking within a 76-block area except to discharge passengers, and to forbid the gathering of crowds. They wore steel helmets and carried rifles with fixed bayonets.

1,200 Troops in City

The total strength of the guard within the city approximated 1,200. Some 2,800 more men remained outside the city.

The Guardsmen patrolled the downtown district as federal mediators, the Rev. Francis Haas and E. H. Dunnigan, prepared a new peace plan they expected to complete today and the employers' advisory committee again publicly blamed Communists for the strike. All efforts to settle the controversy so far have failed.

For the most part, citizens were unaffected by control of the National Guard. Striking drivers, however, were forbidden to congregate out of doors in large numbers without written consent by Adjutant General E. A. Walsh. This order also applied to all gatherings of 100 persons or more.

Trucks Un-Conveyed

Employers were unable to move commercial vehicles, save trucks bearing necessities, without official permits from the military. Trucks that did not move today, laid the streets without armed police convoys for the first time in almost a week.

Under the military regulation authorized by the governor's proclamation all daily newspapers in Minneapolis were "directed" to publish the proclamation for two days.

The regulations also forbid the publication in any manner including newspapers of anything "attempts to obstruct the military forces" or "damning the state of Minnesota or any member of the Minnesota National Guard in the field."

However, the regulations provide that "all constitutional rights of whatever kind will be held inviolate and will not be disturbed except by the direct command of the commanding officer of the affected areas, as the exigencies of the public welfare may necessitate."

Federal immigration authorities examined documents and letters from John J. P. Cannon, editor of the Militant, Communist League publication, and Max Shachtman, editor of the New Internationalist, were arrested.

Soldiers Make Arrests

Both men, charged with vagrancy, were released upon presentation of a writ of habeas corpus in District court this morning. They were immediately rearrested, however, by guardsmen and taken to the military. They will be tried in military court, officials indicated.

Results of the investigation, federal officials would determine whether deportation proceedings against the two would be started.

The Chief of Police said letters found in possession of Cannon and Shachtman were addressed to them in care of Vincent Dunne, one of the leaders in the strike that reached a climax a week ago today with the firing on pickets by police. Sixty-eight persons went to hospitals as a result, one of them dying from wounds.

One of the letters, Chief Johannes said, discussed Communist activities.

INDIANA MADE DILLINGER BAD SAYS GOVERNOR

McNutt Also Declares Crown Point Escape was Inexcusable

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 27.—(AP)—The skeleton of John Dillinger was rattled at the annual conference of the nation's governors here today.

With law enforcement problems uppermost in a docket of subjects which included a study of President Roosevelt's recovery project, federal and state taxation and unemployment relief, the governors devoted much attention to the case of the slain desperado.

Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana told the conference "the penitentiary made John Dillinger what he was" and in an interview said Dillinger's escape from the Crown Point, Ind., jail was "inexcusable."

"Indiana offered the accommodations of its state prison but they were refused," Governor McNutt said in discussing the escape.

"Not only was the escape inexcusable but the method of sentencing was all wrong."

"He (Dillinger) was given a 10 to 20 year sentence while his partner in crime, Alvin Karpis, received a life term. Edward Singleton received a two to ten year sentence despite a previous record. Undoubtedly he (Dillinger) felt the injustice of this sentence. There does not seem to be any escape from the fact that the state of Indiana made John Dillinger the public enemy number one."

PLASTIC SURGERY OFFERS PROBLEM IN CRIME FIGHT

Man Who Helped Dillinger Get Face Changed Is A Suicide

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—The government's ace man-hunter was confronted with a new problem in running down public enemies today—the art of plastic surgery.

The underworld is exchanging old faces for new by the skillful surgeon's knife and the men most wanted in the drive against crime may no longer look as they did six months ago.

For some time the authorities have suspected there was in Chicago a clearing house for criminals to undergo face-lifting operations to thwart the law, but only now has the full extent of possible ramifications of the practice come to light.

Dillinger Suspect Suicides

The revelation came after James Probasco, 67-year-old horse and dog fancier, leaped from the nineteenth floor of a loop skyscraper, where he had been questioned about the use of his home as an infirmary for facial operations for the late John Dillinger and one of his henchmen, Homer Van Meter.

"He said Samuel P. Cowley of the Chicago Bureau of Federal Investigation, 'Probasco had lived, we should have had the names of many gangsters who had their faces disguised in his home.'"

The doctor who "lifted" Dillinger's face, straightened his nose and otherwise altered his appearance, was still being sought.

Cowley, testifying before the coroner's jury that investigated the end of Probasco—the seventeenth person to die in connection with Dillinger's widespread activities—said no third degree methods were used on Probasco, and the juryman returned a verdict that it was a case of suicide while temporarily insane.

Creator Of "Little Nemo" Died Suddenly

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Winsor McCay, widely read editorial cartoonist and creator of many early comic strips, is dead. He succumbed late yesterday of a cerebral embolism at his home in Sheepshead Bay.

His death was sudden, following his collapse as he arose for the day. He had not been ill and had been regularly at his desk with the New York American, on which he was employed.

McCay, creator of "Little Nemo" and other popular comic strip characters, mainly taught himself the art that brought him wealth and prominence. In his early years he painted street signs and theatrical posters.

Plan Addition For Stateville Prison

Springfield, Ill. July 27.—(AP)—The state will spend $1,500,000 for an addition to Stateville penitentiary which will house 1,600 convicts if the penitentiary plans made by the Department of Public Welfare and the state architect's office are accepted by Governor Horner and the legislature appropriates the money for the project.

Overcrowding at all state penal institutions has made the construction of an addition essential. A. L. Bowen, director of the welfare department, said.

SPRINKLERS TO RECESS

The city sprinkler showers, which have been very efficiently operated by Boy Scouts during the recent hot spell, have been discontinued until Monday, when they will be resumed, providing that weather conditions are favorable. More than 100 children enjoyed the cooling showers at the corner of Highland avenue and Tenth street on Tuesday afternoon.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Ralph Giffin of this city was arrested by Patrolmen Bohastell and Pomeroy late yesterday afternoon, following a complaint to the officers that he was alleged to have annoyed young girls who were conducting a lemonade stand south of Third street on Lincoln avenue. The license number of the car he was driving was furnished the officers who later placed him under arrest. Arraigned before Justice J. W. Terrill, he was assessed a fine of $5 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge which he paid.

SEK REQUISITION

Officials of the Indiana state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., will seek requisition papers from Governor Henry Horner, asking that David Allie, now confined in the Lee county jail, be returned to that state for violation of his parole, according to a letter received at the office of Sheriff Fred Richardson this morning. Allie, through his attorney, recently refused to return to Indiana for parole violation, without the issuance of extradition papers and this information was forwarded to the Pendleton reformatory authorities by Sheriff Richardson.

MARSHALS FREE KOHLER PLANTS FROM PICKETING

Cleaned Out Strikers Headquarters and Razed Barricades

Kohler, Wis., July 27.—(AP)—Seventy-five special deputy marshals of Kohler village today smashed the picket lines besieging the Kohler Manufacturing Company, where a strike is in progress, and cleaned out field headquarters of the strikers.

The pickets offered comparatively little resistance, most of them fleeing before the mass advance of the deputies. One was struck on the head in being disarmed after striking at a deputy with a club. Some fled into adjacent cornfields.

Shacks the pickets had erected together on property adjoining the plant were demolished. The deputies reported the seizure of many clubs, slingshots and railroad spikes.

Barricades at the gate through which freight cars are hauled and that to the pottery plant were torn down.

MOST OF STOCK IN UNION YARDS IS DISPOSED OF

Some Shipped to Rented Pastures; Others Await Slaughter

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Most of the gigantic herd of livestock imperiled by the strike of handlers in the Chicago Union Stock Yards had been moved from the pens today as mediators made new efforts for peace.

In thousand-head deals, the federal government, temporarily the biggest livestock dealers of them all, had disposed of all but about 2,600 head of all the bawling, hungry steers it had on its hands when the strike began Tuesday.

Some twelve or fifteen thousand were travelling in long trains of cattle cars toward rented pastures in the south or east. A new shipment of 1,000 was sent out today.

In Company Pens

The rest were in the pens of the big packing companies, whose cowboys are still at work and where water and hay are regular. The pens of the Union Stock Yards & Transit Company, at odds with its 400 employees, held only a few thousand head, either of the cattle the government had shipped in from the drought land or of privately owned stock.

With the glut overcome, some observers saw in the extremely light shipments coming into the stockyards the prospect of a shortage of stock which would slow down the big plants of Packingtown. The packers refused to comment.

Later in the day, federal government mediators were to call in the striking handlers and their employers for another peace council. Today the strikers said that the company had failed to "come half way" and doubted if a settlement could be arranged without much jockeying.

AT EAST ST. LOUIS

East St. Louis, Ill. July 27.—(AP)—Cattle are being killed here at the rate of a thousand a day for cannibal for relief purposes, officials at the National Stockyards announced today.

Fletcher Predicts Increasing Outpouring of Federal Funds to Insure New Dealers' Return

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—We'll not have as much as the Democrats. From now on and in increasing volume as the elections near, there will be a great outpouring of government funds which, in effect, will constitute a great campaign fund.

The funds would go, he predicted, for drought relief, reclamation and planting trees. He asserted the farm administration was holding up crop reduction checks so they may reach the agricultural areas at the height of the campaign.

The Democrats, Fletcher said, realized the middle-west and northwestern states were predominantly Republican in normal times and would concentrate their campaign in them.

NEAR ANARCHY REPORTED IN MANY SECTIONS

Main Buildings are Surrounded by Government Troops

Liezen, Austria, July 27.—(AP)—Government troops at noon today gained control of Phym Pass in a battle against Nazis which has lasted since 2 P. M. Wednesday. Eighteen men were killed.

Vienna, July 27.—(AP)—Unverified reports circulated today saying that eight of the Nazis who participated in the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss, Wednesday have been killed without trial and that 30 more will be hanged this afternoon.

By WADE WERNER

COPYRIGHT, 1934

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vienna, July 27.—The Austrian government this afternoon began feverish preparations for the defense of the Capitol.

Whole sections of the country were reported in a state approximately anarchy.

Guns Guard Chancellery

Machine gun companies mounted their weapons on the roof of the "hochhaus," Vienna's skyscraper, giving the guns a position of command over the federal chancellery on the Ballhausplatz.

The Ballhausplatz itself was jammed with Heimwehr troops.

All government buildings were hurriedly supplied with candles as an evidence of fear that the electric supply may be cut off.

At Heimwehr headquarters in the closely-guarded Renngasse petitions for reinforcements were constantly arriving from Carinthia.

The last SOS message came an urgent demand that all men available be sent immediately to Carinthia where the Nazis apparently were making big gains.

Officers in the Heimwehr headquarters estimated that 180 Heimwehr men had been killed in Austria by last midnight.

This estimate did not include the casualties in the regular army, in the police, in the gendarmarie and among the Nazis.

Estimate 2,500 Dead

This same source estimated that the Nazis had lost 2,500 dead and wounded.

All death estimates at present are unreliable, but the best sources indicated that the aggregate death total of all forces including the Nazis already have greatly exceeded 500.

The Commanders of the Heimwehr were considerably embarrassed by the fact that 6,000 of their armed men were concentrated today in Vienna and were urgently needed here. Therefore it was impossible for them to send reinforcements to Carinthia.

Unverified reports said Nazis were conducting in the railway station outside the inner city intending a surprise attack on the inner city.

Guerilla Warfare

The country whose little chancellery, Engelbert Dollfuss, was assassinated by Nazis Wednesday, is wracked by guerilla warfare, pitched battles for the possession of towns and railway lines, border skirmishes, hunger riots and finally—peace moves.

The government, headed by the Fascist, Prince Ernst von Starheimberg, claimed it was rapidly gaining the upper hand in the chief trouble zone and especially in Styria, where an official communiqué declared the Nazi rebellion was completely crushed. But even official accounts said bitter fighting was continuing in Carinthia.

It was officially confirmed that Austrian legionnaires from Bavaria attempted to invade Austria.

An unofficial death list placed the number killed since the beginning of the fighting Thursday at upward of 400 with thousands wounded.

These wounded include many Federal soldiers whom the Nazis deliberately shot in the legs. The Nazis still hoped that the army would go over to them.

Nazis Out of Control

An ominous feature of the situation is the fact that the highest Nazi leaders themselves no longer seem to be in control of their troops in the provinces. An Associated Press correspondent talked to two of the highest ranking Nazis on Austrian soil this morning and found that they were considerably in the dark as to the military actions of their supporters in Carinthian, Styria and Salzburg provinces.

"We hope," one leader said, "that Chancellor Hitler's appointment of von Papen as minister to Vienna will contribute to the cessation of the fighting."

MILK PRICE
Due to prevailing unusual conditions it is impractical for the Board of Milk Producers to announce in advance the price it will pay for fluid milk direct ratio.

Therefore, until further notice the price for fluid milk will not be delivered and accepted. The price will be published within five (5) days after the period for which the company will have heretofore announced until after said milk is announced the price in advance.

The price for milk delivered in June is $1.30 per cwt for 4 per cent milk delivered and accepted.

Farmers Increase Use Of Electricity

Urbana, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Despite difficult conditions, Illinois farmers are using more electricity today than ever before.

A survey of Illinois farms, conducted as a CWA project under the direction of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois, indicated that 43,570 of the state's 214,495 farms use electricity.

The survey was conducted in 12 representative counties, the statewide figures being based on the results found in them.

More farmers, it was found, have recently obtained electric service than the number which has discontinued service due to economic conditions.

Municipalities Asked To Appear at I. C. C. 'Phone Rate Inquiry

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Illinois cities and villages were urged to appear before the state commission in the case in which the commission has asked the Illinois Bell Telephone Company to show cause why its rates should not be reduced.

The recommendation was contained in a resolution adopted yesterday by the Illinois Municipal League, which went on record as favoring a reduction in rates.

Mayor Bloom of Rockford presided at the league's meeting which was attended by representatives from Peoria, Peru, Danville, Zion, Highland Park, North Chicago and Cicero.

Freeport, LaSalle Get State Pavement

Springfield, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Two county highway contracts, totaling $567,682.28, have been approved by the state Division of Highways including:

LaSalle Co.—09 miles 34-foot pavement and bridge approaches near Lowell, A. P. Munson, Moline, $3,667.15.

Stephenson—22 miles 36-foot of pavement in Freeport, Gund Graham Co., Freeport, $12,374.77.

VETERANS AT SALEM

Salem, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Veterans of the Spanish American war from all parts of the state gathered here today—their day in the fifty first annual renewal of the Marion county soldiers and sailors.

A check of registration rolls yesterday revealed that 14 veterans of the Civil War were among delegates here for the reunion.

WATER BY TRAIN

Highland, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Twenty car loads of water will be shipped daily from East St. Louis, Ill., to Highland during the duration of the drought.

The decision was made yesterday after officials received reports the town's reservoir supply was about exhausted. The shipments will cost $400 daily, it was estimated.

HEAT VICTIM

Highland, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Albert Stenner, pioneer Highland merchant and for years an active participant in Madison county politics, died here Wednesday after having been prostrated by the heat.

"THREE JUDGES OF HELL" ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Paris Subway Station Master Killed by Bomb Explosion

Paris, July 27.—(AP)—The "Three Judges of Hell"—mad bombers who have terrorized the French capital—were believed by police to be responsible for an infernal machine blast in a Montparnasse subway station which killed the station-master and injured two passengers.

A conductor in a "first-class" coach found an innocent-looking package lying on a seat at the Montparnasse station where two subway lines intersect, he turned it over to the station-master to be sent to the lost package office.

The train pulled out and, just as the station-master was examining the package the bomb inside exploded.

He was killed. Two subway riders were injured.

The episode was the first subway blast in a long series of bombings attributed to the unidentified persons for whom police have sought for months past and who signed notes attached to their bombs: "The Three Judges of Hell."

'Field Kitchen' for Minneapolis Pickets

Members of the Minneapolis Truck Drivers and Handlers Union, returning from picketing which shut off all commercial trucking in the city, were greeted at union headquarters by hot meals dished up by their women's auxiliary, as shown here. A "field kitchen" had been set up at strike headquarters, and the men were fed as they returned from cruising the city in autos enforcing their blockade.

"Hitler undoubtedly is sincerely desirous to cooperate in restoring peace here. The difficulty naturally is to reach the ears of the fighters in time.

Naz's Skeptical
"The Nazis in the provinces are apparently skeptical of all radio announcements or newspaper communications from the Vienna government. If enough of them hear the von Papen news over the German radio, there is a chance of suspending military action in time. But time presses."

The news from Styria confirmed this leader's remarks in connection with the skepticism of the provincial Nazis. An Associated Press correspondent who questioned the inhabitants in Leoben where the recent fighting was most fierce, found great skepticism.

Leoben and other Styrian towns heard the news of von Papen's appointment only through the Vienna government radio.

A Leoben merchant observed caustically, "von Papen cannot stop the fact which after the fighting will ruin everybody."

A Heimwehr road patrol man laughed scornfully and incredulously when informed about von Papen. A favorable reaction was encountered however at Brucknamur and also in Kallwang.

In the latter town, a government employee said: "von Papen means better relations with Germany, which means increased exports, which means our boys will work and cease their foolishness."

Battle for Village
The battle was underway meanwhile for possession of Hasiaktyed Village, a town barely half an hour's journey from the border along which Italy has concentrated 48,000 troops and many airplanes.

A Nazi victory was reported early today in the occupation of Golsen, a town in upper Austria not far from Salzburg.

This, and other reports, indicate that the revolt is spreading.

The government is moving energetically to put down the Nazi uprising. Troops are reported en route to the Murg Valley. The Fascist regime, headed by von Starheimberg, successor to the slain Dollfuss, appears, however, to be having its hands full as the revolt spreads.

Until late yesterday the uprising had been confined principally to the province of Styria.

Farmers Enlisting
Many farmers are enlisting under the banner of revolt, some reports say.

Nazis, using a secret radio station, broadcast an appeal to all their supporters to join in overthrowing the government.

One hundred and eighty Nazis were said to have been slain in Styria. Government forces lost 100 men.

Hundreds of Nazis fled across the Yugoslavian border and surrendered there when the town of Ratzenburg fell to Austrian government forces.

All able-bodied former officers and soldiers have been notified by the government to prepare to answer a call for action in the Alpine section of the Tyrol.

Machine Guns Seized
At Annabichel, a suburb of Klagenfurt, 300 Nazis armed with machine guns were defeated. The made for a Nazi mobilization there.

The government arrested Dr. Erick Rejekowith, son-in-law of Dr. Anton Rintelen, minister to Rome who died of bullet wounds in jail yesterday.

Fascists claimed Rintelen was to have been made chancellor had the putsch been successful.

Vienna is still under martial law. Cafes are closed and the usually gay life of the city is no more.

The government said firm measures would be taken with the 144 Nazis who stormed the chancellery Wednesday and killed Dollfuss. They have been imprisoned in a military barracks.

The cabinet's first act was to provide for the financial future of Frau Dollfuss and her children. She is here for the funeral to be held tomorrow, while the children are in Italy under the care of the Mussolinis.

Papen's first act was to provide for the financial future of Frau Dollfuss and her children. She is here for the funeral to be held tomorrow, while the children are in Italy under the care of the Mussolinis.

QUINTUPLETS TO BE SAVED FROM FAIR'S RIGORS

Appoint Guardians to Keep Exploiters From Babies

Toronto, July 27.—(AP)—The protection of four guardians was given to the tiny Dionne quintuplets today to prevent their "exploitation" at the Chicago World's Fair, which was called "certain death."

Arthur W. Roebuck, attorney general of the province of Ontario, obtained an order from District Court Judge H. D. Leask, appointing the guardians.

He charged a contract signed May 31 with Chicago promoters by Ovide Dionne, father of the 60-day-old quintuplets, contained "many catches."

Dr. Allan R. Dafeo, who has attended the five sisters since their birth, was named one guardian. The others are W. H. Alderson of the Red Cross Emergency Committee; Kenneth Morrison, Callender merchant, and Oliver Dionne, grandfather of the famous children who have outlived any previously known quintuplets.

Blames Americans
"Exploiters from American cities," said Roebuck, "who come to Canada to pull off a racket of this kind need not expect the Attorney General's office or the courts will stand idly by. The lives of the children are of greater concern in Canada than profits of an exploitation undertaking, or in other words, the profits of a vaudeville troupe of defenceless children."

"There is no law," said the Attorney General, "which would permit us to deal adequately with the American gentlemen, attempting the exploitation in question so we must be satisfied with merely circumventing their scheme."

Whatever you buy—let the advertisements be your guide.

Report von Papen Accepts
A Berlin dispatch said von Papen had accepted the post of Chancellor of Germany.

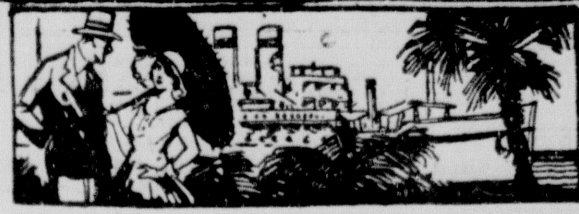

An air of foreboding hangs about Vienna, although residents are most ignorant of what is going on in the provinces.

Scores of lorries carrying Heimwehr men near through the city.

Reports that Yugoslavian soldiers had fired into Austria received no confirmation. Rumors that Italian troops have crossed the border are denied.

An unofficial report says Mussolini will come here to attend the funeral of Dollfuss, who was a close friend and ally.

WASHING THE DISHES
By Christopher Morley

WHEN we on simple rations sup

How easy is the washing up!

But heavy feeding complicates

The task of soiling many plates.

And though I grant that I have prayed

That we might find a serving maid

To scullion all my days, I think,

To see her smile across the sink.

I wash, she wipes. In water hot

I souse each dish and pan and pot;

While Taffy mutters, purrs and begs

And rub himself against my legs.

The man who never in his life

Has washed the dishes with his wife

Or polished up the silver plate—

He still is largely celibate.

One warning: there is certain war

That must be handled with all care

The Lord Himself will give you up

If you should drop a willow cup!

Crusaders Class

Is Entertained

The Crusaders Sunday School class of the Brethren church enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the beautiful farm home of Mr.

and Mrs. Charles Butterbaugh

Thursday evening. There were forty in attendance and all took well filled baskets and a delicious picnic supper was served on their large lawn which furnished an ideal place for such an occasion.

The class appreciated an invitation to the country, and it was discovered that the Butterbaughs are real entertainers, and know how to make every one feel at home, and the evening passed quickly. The cooler weather coupled with the beautiful surroundings of the But-and nuts folded into a fruit-salad dressing is another inviting mixture with fresh pears.

Fritters For Dessert

Fritters made with pears are a splendid hearty dessert. Served with ginger sauce, pear fritters make a fitting dessert for a vegetable dinner. Pare the fruit and cut in very thin slices. Drop into fritter batter and fry in deep hot fat. Drain on crumpled paper and serve with ginger sauce.

Sautéed pears with chocolate sauce may prove to be a favorite dessert in your family. The pears are pared and cut in halves and browned lightly in butter. Then put them into a serving dish and pour over a hot chocolate sauce. Let stand until cool and then chill for several hours. Serve with or without a garnish of whipped cream.

Most week-end visits begin sometime on Saturday and end Sunday evening or Monday morning. If the guest arrives in time for Saturday luncheon, well and good. But if he arrives some time in the middle of the afternoon, be sure to serve tea around 4 o'clock. His luncheon may have been unusually early and a bite will be most welcome.

On Friday make enough salad dressing to carry through Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday morning wash enough lettuce for the entire time and store it in the ice box in an air tight container. With lettuce and dressing at hand, ready to use, salad making is greatly simplified.

The Saturday meals are prepared largely on Friday and early Saturday. The actual work at meal time is negligible.

Sunday meals must be planned in accordance with the manner in which the day is to be spent. If a long, Sunday morning nap is to be taken, a late substantial breakfast with dinner at six o'clock in the evening is the best plan.

These menus have been planned to avoid last-minute preparations as much as possible. The meal of the Saturday dinner is made on Friday or early Saturday morning and reheated for serving. The best are cooked in the morning and reheated in the sauce at serving time. The salad is prepared and chilled in the icebox and of course the sherbet is made early in the day.

Four Menus.

Saturday dinner: Cream of mushroom soup, jellied veal loaf, lattice potatoes, new beets in orange sauce, tomatoes stuffed with a combination of celery-olives and cream cheese, pineapple sherbet, coffee.

Sunday breakfast: Chilled cantaloupe, ready-to-serve cereal, creamy, puffy omelet, crisp broiled bacon, crisp toast, marmalade, coffee.

Sunday dinner: Iced watermelon on cocktail, roast leg of lamb, mint jelly, new potatoes in parsley butter, creamed peas, stuffed cucumber salad, meringues filled with peach cream, coffee.

Sunday night supper: Shrimp salad in green pepper cups, sandwiches of graham nut bread, cream cheese and olive sandwiches, chocolate ice-box cake, coffee.

tion these days, it is pretty easy to feel a lot of envy for Rockwell Kent, the artist.Mr. Kent is off for Greenland, no less, where he is going to hole up with his Eskimo friends for an indefinite the high cost of living, the danger of war, or any of the other things that we stay-at-homes have to worry about.The real reason for my liking Greenland is not the things it has, but the things it hasn't got," he explains.

"Up there you don't have to fight with railroads because they try to discontinue service on your branch. There are no political machines with funny bosses and a corrupt party system that makes you sick. The people leave you alone, and when you want anything they try to help."Unfortunately, however, it is the kind of thing that works only for the artist. Mr. Kent, being an artist, is one of the few genuine individualists left in the world; as such, he can hide himself to a lonely northern island and let the world go by with a clear conscience.The rest of us are not so lucky. We may want to escape from the problems of every-day life, but we can't.
We try hard enough, heaven knows—not by going off to Greenland, but by interesting ourselves in other things, such as baseball races and summer novels and camping trips and golf scores; but it's a futile effort, and in the end the world forces itself on our attention whether we like it or not.For no matter how abstract these problems may seem—problems like the virtues and defects of the profit system, or the armaments race, or the agricultural depression, or the evils of modern political machines—sooner or later they have a way of getting personal and affecting the money we earn or the prices we pay for things or our right to keep on living a moderately happy life.We can't run away from them, no matter how far we go. We have to stick around, worry our heads off about them, and do our bit in the great job of finding a solution for them.

WHERE IS THE DIFFERENCE?

Somebody once remarked that the man who sets out to solve the current problems of milk production and distribution will find, before he gets through, that he has to solve the greatest and knottiest problems of modern capitalism; and the farther you dig into the matter, the truer that seems.Dairy farmers complain that their income is too low; milk consumers, that they pay too much for milk. Shall we, then, leap vociferously on the middleman—the processor and distributors?Not, apparently, if we wish to be fair. The milk distributors point to an exhaustive investigation held not long ago by the New York legislature, in which it was found that the spread between producers' and consumers' prices in the milk business is actually less than in the case of many other farm commodities.Of every dollar the New York consumer spend for milk, for instance, 44 cents goes to the farmer. Nineteen New York City milk dealers examined were found to make on an average, just one cent profit on each 143 quarts of milk they sold.Where, then, is the trouble? Maybe that is something for Congress or the AAA to find out; in any case, it would appear that blaming everything on the middleman is not justified by facts.

AFTER THE VOTING.

The voters at Danville, Ky., hanged a state legislator in effigy the other day.The gentleman in question had promised his constituents to vote against a sales tax bill in the legislature. For one reason or another, it is charged, he forgot the promise; so the boys back home got a rope and a stuffed dummy and expressed themselves about it.Now this sort of thing—wholly aside from the merits of this particular case, or the benefits or otherwise of a sales tax—is what we need a lot more of in politics.Voters who hang a legislator in effigy are at least showing a keen interest in the way they are being governed.
Public apathy is the greatest of all foes of good government. Voters who express themselves as these Kentuckians did are not letting things go by default.When a sympathetic strike occurs the issues primarily responsible for the strike become subordinated and a new conflict arises between those engaged in the strike and governmental authorities. — William Green, president American Federation of Labor.I am interested in a social insurance program only in so far as it tends to restore the equivalent of the garden and the woodpile which our industrial readjustment has taken away. — Owen D. Young.We used to be told that Adam started evil; now we know Edison did it when he invented motion pictures. — Rupert Hughes, author.World powers are making prevention of war their first thought. — Premier Mussolini.

War Dictator of France Under M. Briand is Dead

MARSHAL HUBERT LYAUTEY

Paris, July 27.—(AP)—Marshal Louis H. Lyautey, virtual war dictator of France under Aristide Briand, died today at the age of 80 years.

France's rich colony of Morocco, more than anything else, stands as a monument to Lyautey. He was one of France's greatest colonizers and he regarded colonizing as the greatest mission of a soldier.

Although he never was in service on the western front in the World War, he was considered to be worth an army in himself, for he kept Morocco for France without using a single soldier from the mother country.

Lyautey was born in 1854, of an old Lorraine family, in the patriotic atmosphere of the frontier, and, like so many boys of the region, adopted a military career. A precocious student, he graduated high in his class at Saint Cyr and immediately became an active factor in the army.Formidable Task.
Services at Madagascar, Indo China, Algeria and West Africa was his experience before the timecame to crown his career by making a garden out of the brush of Morocco. He had served a sort of apprenticeship for this formidable task as commander of the Oran army corps.He found in 1912, when the Moroccan situation required heroic treatment and he was called to administer it, that since the Alge-cias conference, a few of the mule paths and rough trails constituing the country's means of communications had been widened and smoothed by the passing of the French troops. But there was little else to suggest civilization.Thirteen years later he left the land, criss-crossed by macadam roads and its principal points connected by railroads, while cultivation had encroached upon the brush so much that the aspect of the landscape had changed as well as the habits of the inhabitants, who had become largely thrifty farmers.Lyautey was called to France after the battle of Verdun to direct the World War for France, but he returned to Morocco when Briand's cabinet fell. The Socialists brought about his recall in 1925.

ARTIFICIAL FEVER

Some of our newest methods of treatment are rooted in the practices of antiquity. Artificial fever, for example, is one such treatment.
The use of hot baths in the treatment of certain chronic conditions like arthritis is as old as the earliest Roman civilization.Today artificial fever has been effectively applied in the treatment of cerebro-spinal syphilis and in certain other chronic conditions, including arthritis, and certain diseases of the joints. Artificial fever produced by prolonged hot baths, by diathermy (a treatment in which heat is produced by the passage of electric currents through the body), or by the penetration of the body by radio short waves, pro-duces a rise of temperature sub-
The effects of artificial fever have been studied from a variety of angles and it has been found that the reactions produced are multi-form. One of the things the fever produces is an engorgement of the blood vessels of the skin which brings forth profuse sweating.The cells of the body when subjected to heat increase their rate of metabolism, that is, the rate at which they burn up the fuels of the body. The nerve centers regulating temperature, as has been indicated above, are overwhelmed, and to all appearances are temporarily put out of commission.Some have claimed that the fever produced artificially can effectively destroy germs. With the exception of the germ of syphilis, however, this has not been clearly established.Artificial fever may have many other effects besides that of the rise in temperature. It is quite possible that the alteration in the behavior of the cells under the stimulus of heat and their increased metabolism may account for some of the desirable effects secured by this rate, while at present artificial fever must be applied with caution, this relatively new-old instrument of treatment is a promising one.

INJURIES FAIL TO SUBDU N. Y. AMERICAN TEAM

McCarthy's Men are Back on Top Despite Series of Mishaps

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

Defying the lightning of injuries which struck again and again as they toured the western sector of the American League, the Yankees returned to the east today with no appreciable loss as the result of their trip.

They were half a game ahead of Detroit when they left, and after dropping to second place, they were again in front as they returned. Despite injuries to Babe Ruth, Ren Chapman and Earle Combs, the Yanks fought their way back to the top yesterday when a brilliant hurling exhibition by Goofy Gomez and Lou Gehrig's 29th homer brought them a 3 to 1 victory over St. Louis while the Red Sox belted Detroit down for the second straight day, 11 to 1.

This gave the Yanks the lead by two percentage points. Gomez' contribution was a four-hit hurling job in which three blows came after one out in the ninth.

Pounded Tigers.

The Red Sox never gave Detroit's elbowers a chance as they opened up on Vic Sorrell in the first and slammed out 17 hits, scoring in six innings. Bill Werber and Rick Ferrell each made four blows.

The real drama in the American League's performance came in a meeting between two second division clubs when "Sad" Sam Jones of Chicago, the oldest pitcher in the circuit and a big leaguer for more than 20 years, celebrated his 42nd birthday by shutting out Washington with six hits for a 9 to 0 victory. It was the second straight whitewashing administered to the 1933 champions and the Sox smacked out eleven hits to do it. The Athletics and Cleveland were rained out.

Dean Boys Ganged Up.

Although they couldn't shatter the jinx of the Dean brothers, the Giants again got the best of the National League struggle by adding half a game to their lead when they broke even in a double header with the Cardinals. The two Deans, who haven't lost to New York this season, ganged up to win the opener 7 to 2. Paul pitched seven innings and got credit for the family's eighth triumph over the league leaders, and Dizzy relieved him when he tired toward the finish. Carl Hubbell was on the losing end, being knocked out in four frames for his third straight defeat. Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons squared the count, 6 to 3, with the aid of homers by Hughey Critz and Hank Leiber. He hurled two-hit ball for the first seven frames.

The second-place Cubs, meanwhile, took one on the chin from the Dodgers, 6 to 3, when Danny Taylor's circuit blow with two aboard overcame an early Cub lead and gave big Jim Weaver his first defeat of the season.

Pittsburgh's nine-game losing streak came to an end through the capable hurling of Larry French, who set the Phillies down with three hits to win the first half of a bargain bill, 3 to 0. The Phils came back behind Curt Davis to win the afterpiece 5 to 3. It was Davis' 14th triumph of the year.

The defeat cost the Pirates a chance to regain fourth place as the Reds rose up and clouted the Braves into submission, 12 to 5, with a 19-hit attack that produced two five-run innings.

U. S. DAVIS CUP CHANCES ARE UP TO SIDNEY WOOD

Is the Only One Conceded Chance to Beat Ace of British Team

London, July 27.—(AP)—The draw in Davis Cup play to begin Saturday between the United States and England today placed Frank Shields against Henry (Bunny) Austin in the first match and Sidney B. Wood against Fred Perry, English ace, in the second match.

In doubles at Wimbledon Monday George Lott and Lester Seofen of America will meet Perry and George Patrick Hughes.

Tuesday's first match sees Shields battle Perry. Starting times will be the same as those during the interzone finals matches.

Officials reported a complete sellout of reserved seats.

The experts were pretty well agreed that the job of regaining the Davis Cup for the United States rested squarely on the shoulders of slim young Sidney B. Wood of New York.

It's Up To Wood

The magnificent play of the blonde New York in beating Jack Crawford, world's No. 2 ranking star, in the key match of the interzone finals with Australia, leads the critics to believe that Wood, and Wood alone, has a chance to beat Fred Perry, ranked at No. 1 over the world's courts, when England and the United States square off in the challenge round here Saturday.

Lacking the draw, the experts have no way of knowing whether Wood will face Perry on the opening or the closing day. But they concede the United States a double victory for George Lott and Lester Seofen against any combination the British can muster. They believe that Henry (Bunny) Austin, England's second ranked star, and Perry can beat Frank Shields, Wood's lanky singles partner. They believe that Wood can beat Austin.

Stage is Set

The stage is set then, or so they figure, for a duel between Wood and Perry for the odd match in five and the cup the United States lost to France in 1927. The book makers have made the English pair a 2 to 3 favorite with even

LIFE SERIES OF DISAPPOINTING EVENTS FOR STAR

Wilmer Allison Stands on Sidelines Today at Seabright

Seabright, N. J., July 27.—(AP)—Life has become one disappointment after another for Wilmer Allison, the quiet, mild mannered young Texan who ranks as the nation's No. 2 tennis singles player.

A couple of weeks ago Dick Williams, Davis Cup captain, cabled him an "SOS" that sent him racing across the Atlantic to join the Davis Cup squad as George Lott's double partner. But when he got there Lester Seofen's play had improved to such an extent that Allison wasn't needed, and sadly he returned to play at Seabright.

Now, seeded No. 1, he watched from the sidelines today as Berkeley Bell, New York dynamo, was pitted against Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, another pint-sized explosive, in the final round of the highly prized singles silver bowl.

Beaten by Bell

Allison was eliminated by Bell yesterday as the New Yorker rose to his greatest heights to win 6-4, 6-0, 2-6, 7-5 while Grant subdued Henry Prusoff of Seattle, the clouting star of the tournament up to that point, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

Nothing in the women's division indicates that there will be serious opposition to Helen Hull Jacobs' winning the women's singles bowl. The American women's champion will meet Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles in the final round Saturday.

While Miss Babcock was dropping a set to Gracy Wheeler of Santa Monica, before winning her place in the finals yesterday, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, Miss Jacobs sailed gracefully into the last round, defeating Mrs. Mary Greff Harris, of Kansas City, 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs and Elizabeth Ryan were matched today against Mrs. John W. Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, in the women's doubles final Saturday Allison and John Van Ryn, former American Davis Cup doubles combination, will meet Bill and Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, for the men's doubles title.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—Time is his own now for the roving Roman Sarazen. It has been years since he has been thrust into early retirement during the Professional Golf Association's annual warfare, but this year he returned early to his Sabine farm.

Calm resignation marked Sarazen's attitude after his defeat by Al Watrous of Detroit, 4 and 3, in the second round of the P. G. A. championship yesterday although in prior years Sarazen, when beaten back, would stomp off the course snarling, sour and burning.

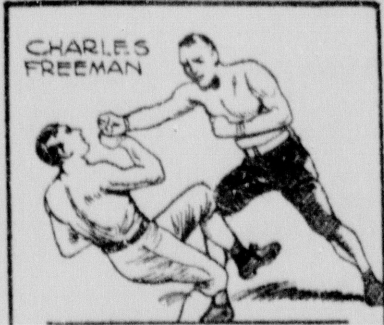

This was a highly important commercial affair at Buffalo for the brawny and bronzed little man against whom many famous golfers have bumped and been wrecked. Sarazen cancelled European exhibitions to play in the P. G. A. This FREEMAN, called "The Michigan Giant," was 7 feet, 3 inches tall and weighed 333 pounds. He died in 1845 at the age of 26. Congress granted the Yosemite Valley to California as a state park in 1865. Yosemite National Park was created in 1890 and in 1905 California turned back its state park to be included in the national park. The full-iron frame was designed to resist the tremendous tension of the modern plan without letting the wires defect from pitch.

was his only title and he needed a championship because championships mean money.

Lambs Divided Interest

Usually when a title is in view Sarazen can draw a sharp bead on that subject to the utter exclusion of everything else, but this year kindly disposed parties presented Gene with two lambs and they divided his interests.

When the match was over Gene turned to sympathizers and said: "Al was just too good for me. Has anyone been bothering the sheep?"

Back in the locker room he talked of farming and golf.

"Golf is fun, anyway," he concluded. Farming is fun and business too."

The lambs that Gene has had transported to his Connecticut farm outside of Stamford probably could be bought from one of his neighbors for three dollars. On the hoof at Villa Sarazen with shipping charges figured in they will set Gene back at least $15 each.

BAKERS VICTORS OVER OREGON IN THURSDAY GAME

Rock Falls Came from Rear to Take Sterling Last Night

With Adolph Feltang pitching good ball and his teammates securing hits when they were most needed, the Beier Bakers defeated Oregon last evening on the latter's field by a score of 5 to 2. Schultz, who has baffled many of the Rock River Valley soft ball league teams, was no puzzle for the Bakers.

One of the hardest fought battles of the evening occurred in Sterling when at the close of the eighth inning, Rock Falls, league leaders, stood to lose with Sterling holding a 3 to 1 lead. However, Rakow's Rockets started battling Thompson's offerings plentifully in the first of the ninth and scored three runs which were sufficient to win by a score of 4 to 3. Deets pitched an excellent game for the league leaders.

Ashton went to Princeton and behind Larry Beyer's pitching, gave a good account of themselves up to the ninth inning when the winner was decided. At the close of the eighth, the count stood a tie with a 1 to 1 score. The Bureau county batters started hitting in their half of the ninth and scored five runs while Traeger, pitching for Princeton, held the Ashtons scoreless in their half of the final, the final count being 6 to 1 in Princeton's favor.

Dixon Golfers Won from Oregon on D. C. Course Thursday

Eight Dixon Country Club golfers defeated an equal number of Oregon players in their intermatch at the local course Thursday afternoon, 17 to 7. Only three scores under 80 were turned in. Bursick of Oregon being low with a 73 for the 18 holes. Emerson Borer and Ed O'Malley of Dixon carded 11 and 79, respectively. The visitors were guests of the local club after the match.

Combs Passed Good Night in Hospital: is Still Critical

St. Louis, July 27.—(AP)—Earl Combs, New York Yankee outfielder who was injured last Tuesday in a game between the Yankees and St. Louis Browns, passed a good night, sleeping most of the time, according to a report issued today by St. John's hospital. His condition remains critical.

Combs suffered a fractured skull and broken collar bone when he ran into the bleachers at Sportsman's Park in an attempt to catch a fly ball.

3,000 SCOUTS IN CAMP AT ROTARY EARLY IN MONTH

350 from Lee County's Troops Will Be in on the Outing

Three hundred and five Lee county Boy Scouts, with 370 from Whiteside county, will be among the more than 3,000 northern Illinois lads, 12 to 18 years of age, who will be eligible to attend one of the two seven-day outings to be held at the beautiful Camp Rotary, near Rockford, Aug. 4 to 10, under supervision of Black Hawk area council, Boy Scouts of America. George C. Driesbach, Scout executive at Rockford, announced today.

"Because each encampment will be limited to 200 boys, a total of 400 for the two weeks, we are urging parents to hasten with the enrollment of their boys," Mr. Driesbach explained. "Every facility for the health, welfare, safety and enjoyment of the Scouts will be provided, and the camps will be under the direct control of five executives who have a total combined service of more than 75 years in this field of work."

Adelbert V. Newman, field executive for Lee and Ogle counties, will be a member of Mr. Driesbach's staff. Newman, a graduate of the Chicago Art Institute, and whose home is in Dixon will direct handicraft activities. A former merit badge Scout, himself, he has had years of service in scouting.

Other Veterans in Charge
Other members of the camp staff will include Howard Swits, Rockford, business manager; Herman Brandmiller, Sterling, a graduate of Harvard university's five-year course, in charge of scoutcraft, and Robert Ellis, Belvidere, director of waterfront activities.

Because these leaders, all of them graduates of regional and national camping schools, will be drawn in from their posts for service without added expense, enrollment fees for this summer's Scout camps will be only $5.50 per boy, Mr. Driesbach said.

The location of Camp Rotary is an ideal one, on a beautiful wooded tract, high on the hills above the Kishwaukee River, and only three miles east of New Milford," he added. "Every Scout, or every candidate who has applied for membership, paid his registration fee and who will be 12 years old by Aug. 4, will be eligible to attend provided he or his parents supply the amount necessary for enrollment."

Plan Varied Outdoor Program
"In addition to the healthful outdoor life assured for the boys under the safest possible conditions and supervision, the seven-day periods will be filled with a great variety of recreational and athletic activities."

"There will be the court of honor, mass games, nature lore, campcraft, hikes, stunt nights, camp fires, Indian lore, star study, explorations, canoeing, and other entertainment. Noted speakers will be heard daily in the after-dinner periods, discussing topics of great interest to youths of that age."

"Dieticians will prepare specially balanced meals, including ample quantities of fresh milk, butter, eggs and apples. The average boy gains at least four pounds during his week's outing. We will have a fully equipped medical service on hand, day and night, and each applicant will be given a preliminary physical examination before he enters camp to assure that he is fit and in good health."

"In addition, a complete medical examination by registered physicians will be made during the seven-day period and this individual history will undoubtedly prove of utmost value and interest to parents as well as to the boy."

Camp Completely Outfitted
Camp Rotary has every modern convenience for the comfort of its young vacationists, including a central electric plant, its own water works with bubbling drinking fountains, its own elaborate pool where all swimming is done under careful supervision of highly trained life guards, shower baths, athletic field, model kitchens and ten large permanent sleeping quarters. Rockford's city health department supervises its water system.

The "buddy system" is utilized as a safety measure in swimming, a sport in which every camp member, no matter how inexperienced, will be taught how to swim and dive. Black Hawk council area includes Whiteside, Ogle, Boone, Lee, McHenry and Winnebago counties, with headquarters at Rockford. Scouts who are to attend either of this summer's camps must enroll immediately, either through their own troops or through council headquarters in Rockford. Many troops are planning to attend in a body.

"Movie" Dogs Must Have Souls

A celebrated trainer of dogs for movie purposes, and the first man to produce "dog operas," says that his dogs are all hand picked. "There are just two points I take into consideration when I select a dog for training; first, the dog's eyes must show that it has a soul. Second, it must have a broad head, sufficient to encase a good sized brain. Nothing else matters. He may be a wreck from kicks and curses, half starved and cowed. This shows that he needs only a friend. He will respond to your kindness quicker than the well-fed, contented dog that has known no hardships. Win his confidence and you get complete obedience—idolatrous obedience, I might say. Then he will do anything you command him to do without asking why or questioning its practicability. That's what makes 'dog opera' possible."

Living Our Everyday Lives

DANGEROUS CORNER

By Joseph Fort Newton

What is the most dangerous time of life? Each period, of course, has its own perils and pitfalls, but where is the dangerous corner?

Not in our teens or our twenties, when life is like wine and we are intoxicated by it. Not in our thirties, when we have houses to build, babies to love and train, and our way to make in the world.

No, by far the most dangerous time of life is from forty upwards—or downwards, as it may easily be. Up to forty life comes to us, floods us, thrills us, after forty we must take it and shape it.

By that time, if we are not careful, we are growing tired of ourselves, tired of one another, and have ceased to wonder. The rosy glow of morning has faded into the light of common day, losing its lustre.

It is so easy to settle down, to run in a rut, to become realistic, as we say, when we have only become cynical, so easy to fancy that we are wise, when we have only lost our faith and become hard.

One is so apt to become narrow, lose the power of growth and change, and mistake prejudices for principles. By that time, if ever, a man has won his way, only to discover he has sacrificed too much for it.

It is then, as never before in the same degree, that a man needs spiritual faith, also he will face a lonely, restless, dissatisfied old age. Youth, if it falls, will bounce, but not so the man of middle years.

We must take stock of ourselves, become more intimate with life, asking no cold questions of any joyous thing. We must approach all lovely things gently, listening for the secret of their grace and beauty.

Nay more, we must follow all clues, pushing forward into new fields, exploring new outlooks, seeking fresh springs of inspiration, crying at the foot of every mountain, "Let us see what is on the other side."

Life is a swift-flowing stream; it means growth, movement, unfoldment. It has more truth than is in our philosophy, more songs than we have sung.

If we take the road with brave feet, giving life its due, unafraid, at the end of the day there will be memories and dreams.

REQUEST EIGHT MORE COUNTIES BE PUT IN AREA

Drought Conditions Become Critical in New Territories

Springfield, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—The federal government today was asked to recognize that the drought is critical in eight Illinois counties where July rains did not precede the burning heat.

While the heat wave relaxed, encouraged farmers in the central and other regions where corn prospects are still good, eight more counties were nominated for the secondary drought relief area.

In a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Director Walter W. McLaughlin of the state department said that crop damage and water shortages are widespread in St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Perry, Jackson, Williamson, Franklin and Edgar counties, mostly in the southwestern part of the state.

Meanwhile government crop experts said the recent heat wave, with temperatures far above 100 degrees, caused some damage to corn even in the sections which had good rains during the first half of July.

Some Corn a Failure.
The corn crop is described as virtually a failure in some of the western counties by A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician here. With no rain of consequence, drought conditions there are growing more serious.

Surratt said the situation is worse in the west central, lower west central and some of the southern counties, where subsoil moisture is more deficient. It is in these sections that corn is reported extremely poor, particularly on thinner upland soils.

If the burning heat should continue, he said, the area of major damage would extend eastward. E. W. Holcomb, head of the weather bureau here, this week described the principal drought area as extending northward from Macoupin and Jersey counties.

79 Counties Named.
During the June dry spell, 79 northern and central counties were made part of the secondary drought area so that distressed farmers could take advantage of the emergency freight rates on water and feeds, negotiated by J. H. Lloyd, Governor Horner's drought relief administrator.

Farmers in the drought area also may apply for loans from the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Farm conditions in much of the state were greatly improved, however, by a series of rather general rains measuring several inches in some localities.

Holcomb and Surratt have received numerous reports of burned pastures and a shortage of water, requiring farmers to take time from their work to haul water and forage for livestock.

"Reports about fruit trees are increasingly discouraging, particularly in the west central part of the state," Surratt said.

"The Illinois State Journal today published a survey of drought damage, telling of stunted corn fields and of farmers hauling water in Morgan, Scott, Cass, Macoupin, Schuyler and Pike counties.

TYPHOID HITS CIRCUS; MANY EMPLOYEES ILL

Bulk of Workers and Performers Stricken in Detroit

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—(AP)—City health department officials Thursday afternoon announced that 77 performers, trainers, and other employees of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey combined circus are in local hospitals, at least half of them suffering from typhoid fever and the others suspected of having the disease.

The disease apparently first broke out among the circus personnel in Cincinnati. Two members of the troupe are in a hospital there.

Another died of the disease a few days later in Dayton.

The presence of the disease among the troupe was first discovered in Detroit last Saturday when four performers became ill and were taken to a hospital.

Health Officers on Job.
When these cases were discovered a health department officer was sent to the circus grounds with several nurses and internes. Every one connected with the show was examined and many were inoculated against the disease.

When the show left town Wednesday the health officer remained with it, with instructions to continue with the show and watch for typhoid cases until it leaves the state Saturday.

Wednesday night seven members of the personnel were sent from Flint to Detroit suffering from the disease.

Circus officials, the health department was informed, expressed the belief that the disease was first contracted by members of the troupe in New Castle, Pa., where the show performed July 13. From New Castle it went to Erie, Pa., thence to Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo and Detroit.

Lured the Chinese

In the days of the California gold rush everybody was so busy digging for gold that the homelier household chores were neglected. With gold beckoning, no one was willing to work at plain jobs. There was no land communication with the East but ships were constantly plying to China. The Forty-niners acquired the habit of sending their washing to China, getting it back in two or three months. This showed the Chinese that there was a business opportunity in this country.

GOOD THOUGHTS.

It is not the possession of extraordinary gifts that make extraordinary usefulness, but the dedication of what we have to the service of God.

A perfect gift thy Father gives to thee—Thyself, with all thy powers. Yet all will be imperfect, weak and in captivity, till thou, His child, give all thyself away to God and to thy brother, day by day.

God gives us always strength enough and sense enough for what He wants us to do; if we either tire ourselves or puzzle ourselves, it is our own fault. And we may be sure, whatever we are doing, that we cannot be pleasing Him if we are not happy ourselves.

The whole course of things goes to teach us faith. We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word. Why need you choose so painfully your place and occupation and associates and modes of action and entertainment? Certainly there is a possible place for you that precludes the need of balance and willful election.

"The name of the Lord is a strong tower; the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." As our concept of God is enlarged and clarified, this "strong tower" becomes more and more a reality to us. Trusting in the strength of God, divine, unalterable Principle, to overcome each and every obstacle, each one may find his right place and right work. The "strong tower" whose foundation is the omnipotence of God, is available for all. Those who distrust their own ability to avail themselves of the power of Spirit, need to remember that this ability is God-bestowed. He who gladly surrenders self-will and human planning, finds that the divine will is ever operative and guides him into his right place at the right time.

Famous Iraq Iraq, now a full-fledged state, is the birthplace of the "Arabian Knights," the "Land of the Magic Carpet," the legendary site of "The Garden of Eden," the heir of Babylon, Nineveh, and Ur. Iraq is the land of the gulf, or round boat. Tradition says that the infant Moses was set adrift in one of these reed-woven, tar-calked boats.

YOU'VE HEARD OF THE HORSE MARINES? WELL—

Peasants, commenting an uprising in Ranquill, Chile, who thought they'd frustrate the strategy of government troops by destroying all river craft on the Alto Bio Bio, didn't reckon on the hastily constructed ferries the carabinieri would build to pursue them. Here a mounted cavalryman is seen being rowed to the rebel shore by a one-man-powered raft.

Tanager's Colors Change

When you see a red bird with black wings and tail, you may be sure it is a scarlet tanager, male, a year old. When the bird is two years old, the wing changes to brown, but the tail remains black. The female is a yellowish-green bird, with brown wings and tail.

Prince Castle Ice Cream is so delicious that the immediate impression is that it must be a luxury—too palatable to be one of those things that "is good for us" like spinach. The fact is, the Bureau of Foods informs us that ice cream is ten times as nutritive, in any weather, as most other foods—inexpensive and easily digested.
